

You Sent
Abundant Rain

Song 3 You make abundant rain to pour, O Lord of Hosts

Psalm 68 – God sends abundant rain, refreshes weary land, provides for poor, scatters enemies, ascends on high, receives gifts. Echoes Exodus 14–15 (Red Sea), Joshua 3 (Jordan), Isaiah 55:10–11 (rain brings fruitfulness).

You make abundant rain to pour, O Lord of Hosts
Your glory fills the earth, in You we boast
We praise and shout to You, our voices raise
In triumph we sing Your eternal praise

Alleluia, Alleluia, Your abundance pours down
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your victory comes around

When God arises, His enemies flee away
The wicked melt before Him, in dismay
The righteous rejoice, in gladness they sing
Before the Lord, their joy takes wing

Alleluia, Alleluia, Your abundance pours down
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your victory comes around

You make abundant rain to pour, O Lord of Hosts
Your glory fills the earth, in You we boast
We praise and shout to You, our voices raise
In triumph we sing Your eternal praise

Father of the fatherless, judge of widows true
In His holy dwelling, God is ever new
He gives the lonely homes, sets captives free
The rebellious dwell in barren land, you see

Alleluia, Alleluia, Your abundance pours down
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your victory comes around

You make abundant rain to pour, O Lord of Hosts
Your glory fills the earth, in You we boast
We praise and shout to You, our voices raise
In triumph we sing Your eternal praise

The Lord gives strength to His people, His own
The Lord blesses with peace, on His throne
The Lord will bless them, His favor bestow
The Lord is King, enthroned forevermore

Alleluia, Alleluia, Your abundance pours down
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your victory comes around

You make abundant rain to pour, O Lord of Hosts
Your glory fills the earth, in You we boast
We praise and shout to You, our voices raise
In triumph we sing Your eternal praise
